How To CATALOG Your ITEMS

With the holidays behind us, you may find yourself setting up new laptops and phones, riding a new bicycle, taking skis and snowboards to the mountains, or taking photos with a new camera. But, have you ever thought about how you would identify these items should they be stolen from your house, car or purse?

LeadsOnline (www.leadsonline.com) is a website that allows citizens to catalogue up to 100 items with names, photos, descriptions, and serial numbers. If an item is lost or stolen, a citizen can include a LeadsOnline document with their police report. If the item is found, returned to a law enforcement agency or pawned, you and law enforcement will be alerted. With the help of LeadsOnline, law enforcement can have more information on your stolen property in order to increase the chances of it being located and/or returned to you.

We recommend that you catalogue items such as cell phones, laptops, tablets, bicycles, other sports equipment, computers, cameras, televisions, guns, and any other items of value.

As always, if you see any suspicious activity in your area, contact Castle Rock Police Department to report it!

Brookside Inn Thanks!

“I wanted to extend an extra sincere THANK YOU to all of you for participating in the holiday challenge! It was a HUGE success, and we absolutely made so many people happy delivering those gifts [for] residents at Brookside. The little elderly ladies and gents were thrilled to have us stop by, tell them Merry Christmas and hand out the super soft teddy bears! The smiles on their faces were incredible...Those residents are special people, sometimes forgotten...and we showed them with just a little time and a little kindness that they are still important...Thank you again, from the bottom of my heart.
