TOWN OF CASTLE ROCK COLORADO

PROJECT OVERVIEW

The planned trail along the Industrial Tributary will connect Downtown Castle Rock to Philip S. Miller Park and neighborhoods to the west of I-25.

Miller's Landing has completed the western segment; Brickyard will complete the central segment, anticipated in 2026.

The Town will construct the connection from the Brickyard to Downtown Castle Rock. The project scope will include a box culvert, a tunnel under the railroad and a bridge over the East Plum Creek.

TOWN FACILITY NAMING PROCESS

The Town's naming policy provides the Town Manager and or designee authority to establish a naming process for Town facilities and to assemble a committee for the review and selection of nominations. Results are then forwarded to appropriate Boards and Commissions for consideration and Town Council for ultimate approval.

The Town's facility naming policy says the "goal in selecting names for Town facilities shall be primarily to advance fostering a sense of community and small-town character. This includes names which heighten the awareness of Town history, celebrate the natural environment and call attention to points of pride in our community, to people, events and geography that have shaped the Town, create our sense of place and make our community unique."

TOWN FACILITY NAMING PROCESS

Staff would like to begin the naming process this spring so that the name can be used for project updates, marketing and planned wayfinding.

The Town will advertise the naming process through a press release, social media and other methods.

Staff will create an online form to receive suggestions that conform to the naming goals for a period of 30 days.

Staff expects to present results to the Parks and Recreation Commission for consideration and to Town Council for approval this summer.
