A message from
Chief of Police
Jack Cauley

Castle Rock continues to be one of the safest and fastest-growing communities in the country. To achieve this, we build upon our One-By-One Policing philosophy through our three strategic pillars:

People: We invest in our team members by providing quality training and the best equipment available. We are laser-focused on creating a healthy organizational culture where our members can thrive.

Innovation: The ability to innovate is key. We embrace the latest technology and best practices to solve problems and address crime.

Community: Policing is a team effort. Creating safe communities must involve trust and partnerships. We are grateful for Castle Rock's support and don't take it for granted.

"The impact these dogs have is amazing. They have a positive effect on everyone they meet."

Three new therapy dogs join CRPD

In April, CRPD welcomed three new members to the team! Therapy dogs Simba and Lily received a warm welcome while making the rounds at the police department. Simba will be partnered with School Resource Officer Marcos Whyte, while Lily will be partnered with School Resource Officer Melissa Lance. Meanwhile, Leia made herself at home as Castle View High School's newest pawed pal.

CRPD's therapy dog program is nationally recognized, and the officers and canines have traveled all over to help other departments create their own programs. The dogs are trained to maintain a calm demeanor and provide a stable presence. They are certified through the American Kennel Club, a national therapy dog organization, and as service animals. Presently, the department has seven canines in the therapy dog program.
