OPEN GARAGE DOORS

Castle Rock Police Department continues to take reports of garages being accidentally left open overnight and having items stolen from within the garage. Use these tips to keep yourself from becoming a victim of this crime of opportunity!

- When you close your garage, watch it to ensure that it goes all the way down and closes; many garages are accidentally left open and entered overnight!
- Take your garage door opener out of your vehicle and bring it with you inside during the night.
- If your garage door opener is stolen, re-program your garage door so that the stolen opener no longer opens your garage.
- Lock any vehicles that are parked inside the garage, as suspects who enter open garages also tend to go through victim's vehicles and steal property from inside the vehicle.
- If your garage is attached to your house, lock the door that accesses the inside of your home.
- Be a good neighbor! If your neighbor's garage is left open and you do not believe they are currently working out of the garage, call your neighbor to make sure they are aware.

As always, if you see any suspicious activity in your area, contact Castle Rock Police Department to report it!

DETECTIVE UNIT

Interviews were conducted during the month of September for two rotating detective assignments scheduled to begin January 2018 and ending December 2022. One detective will be assigned to the Douglas County Regional Impact Team and the other to the Detective Unit at CRPD. The interest level in both positions was high with nine officers applying for the Impact assignment and five officers applying for the Detective Unit assignment. The testing was highly competitive and many well qualified officers were identified. Officer Nicholas Stamos has been selected for assignment to the Impact Team and current Impact Detective Mark Galvan has been selected for assignment to the Detective Unit.

VA UNIT STATISTICS SEPTEMBER (2015-2017)

After four and a half years of volunteering, Lisa Dunning decided it was time to end her service stating, "I have valued the dedication and support within the Victim Advocate Unit as well as within CRPD. In addition to running a successful business, raising a family and volunteering. Lisa found time to author a book on parenting. "It definitely was a tough decision but with the growth of my mental health facility as well as my speaking engagements, I realized it was time to leave," Lisa expressed. ## Thank You CRPD Officers 44 \ \ \ / e have worked hard to teach our children that if you cannot find a silver lining, then YOU need to BE the silver lining. For the past several years, we've taught our kids that 9/11 is a day to give thanks to our First Responders...We have personally witnessed you "running in" when [a] home exploded behind us, when an airplane struck power lines two-houses away and we've seen you creating a stronger community at events on Wilcox St., pushing cars uphill on icy roads, changing tires for citizens and even helping a boy with his bike chain off Founders. My favorite is when I see you making your presence known at my kids' school, keeping them safe, my most precious "possessions." Thank you for risking your safety for ours, for "running in" when we all run out. For slowing us down for protecting our kids. Thank you.

Thank You, Officer Moorhead

ust a quick heads up in appreciation for all the help I received from Officer David Moorhead. He directed me to an address when I was in need. He was very professional, polite and informative. I hope you keep hiring young men like David. I know it is a tough, under appreciated job but there are many of us out here that really appreciate your efforts. John G.

Happy Fall!
