Castle Rock Adventist Hospital offered to fund and host a dedication event for The Rock Paint-by-Number created during Castle Rock Artfest. PAC 2020-005    Discussion/Direction: Repair of Dancing Moon IV

Commissioners discussed the repair of Dancing Moon IV. The artist of the piece, Reven Swanson, noted the disc damage was too extensive so she would need to create a new glass disc. After assessing magnesium chloride corrosion on the damaged glass piece, the artist asked the Commission to consider funding restoration work in 2020, which she stated would cost $200.

Stephanie Brueggemann proposed the idea of reinforcing the glass disc with plexiglass. Susan Paulsen recommended reaching out to the artist to see if she would recommend and/or install plexiglass during the disc's installation.

Lauri Maloney moved and Diana Sterling seconded the approval to spend up to $200 to clean and restore Dancing Moon IV in 2020.
