A message from
Chief of Police
Jack Cauley

Castle Rock continues to be one of the safest and fastest-growing communities in the country. To achieve this, we build upon our One-By-One Policing philosophy through our three strategic pillars:

People: We invest in our team members by providing quality training and the best equipment available. We are laser-focused on creating a healthy organizational culture where our members can thrive.

Innovation: The ability to innovate is key. We embrace the latest technology and best practices to solve problems and address crime.

Community: Policing is a team effort. Creating safe communities must involve trust and partnerships. We are grateful for Castle Rock's support and don't take it for granted.

"This event is about thanking and celebrating our people, innovation and community...and this is a special night where we can give back to our supporters."

- Castle Rock Police Chief Jack Cauley

End-of-summer celebrations with CRPD

The Castle Rock Police Department closed out the summer season with its two largest events. National Night Out kicked things off Tuesday, Aug. 4, at Philip S. Miller Park. Dozens of CRPD sworn members, professional staff, volunteers and explorers were in attendance with informational booths, live demonstrations, hands-on activities for kids and giveaways. Event participants were able to ask questions about the issues affecting their neighborhoods and work with officers to find community-wide solutions.

Then, thousands converged on the Douglas County Fairgrounds Saturday, Aug. 23, for the ninth annual Touch-A-Truck event. Visitors were able to view and explore more than 40 vehicles from around the Denver metro area and learn how each works to keep the community safe. "Touch-A-Truck wouldn't be possible without all of the generous organizations who donate their time," said Commander Galvan. "It is because of these relationships and our collaborative efforts that Castle Rock continues to be named one of the safest communities in America."
